While staying in a Dorset cottage, Hugh Mullion finds a mysterious key down the side of an antique chair. No one can say how long the key has been there or what it opens.

Hugh's search for answers will unlock the secrets of the troubled life of a talented artist, destined to be hailed a neglected genius fifty years too late. And no secret is darker than that of The Amber Maze, from whose malign influence he never escaped.

The trail takes Hugh from Edwardian Oxfordshire to 1960s Camden Town, where the ghosts of the past are finally laid to rest.

Delicately crafted noir fiction at its best.

Of The Green Door: "Draws the reader in immediately and has all the elements of an intriguing mystery. ...some lovely idiosyncratic touches and descriptions." Shena Mackay, shortlisted for the Booker Prize

Of The Yellow Room: "...a rare glimpse into our recent history, far too rarely plundered by modern novelists, and deftly done." Andrew Marr

Of The Red House: "Very entertaining, cleverly constructed and expertly paced. I thoroughly enjoyed it." Sir Derek Jacobi

ABOUT THE AUTHOR: Christopher Bowden lives in south London. His five previous novels are The Red House, The Blue Book, The Yellow Room, The Green Door and The Purple Shadow, the first published in 2007
